DETAILED ACTION

The following action is in response to application 10/657,038 filed on September 5, 2003.

Election/Restrictions

Claims 1-7 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election was made without traverse in the reply filed on September 5, 2003.

Please Note: these claims need to be canceled. As the amended claims 1-7 cannot be in the Reissue application, while the unamended claims 1-7 be present in the current application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 8 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Newbigging in view of Kameyama. Newbigging teaches an engine E, a controller for said engine (inherent), a transmission 10, a manual shift lever 107, and having an input shaft 16 driven through a master friction clutch C by the engine, an output shaft 28, a detent mechanism 214, providing a first condition with a greater resistance (complete) to movement of the shift lever and a second condition applying a lesser resistance (none) to movement of the shift lever. Newbigging lacks the teaching of sensing a requirement to maintain a driver intent to maintain the shift lever in a ratio-disengaged position. Kameyama teaches a transmission system, comprising a manual shift lever 10, a first operator selector 36 movable to a first position

Art Unit: 3681

(closed) for selection of a first mode of operation of an accessory (seat belt) otherwise unconnected with the transmission and said first operator selector movable to a second position (opened) for selection of a second mode of operation of said accessory, a control unit (Fig. 2) for receiving input signals and processing same according to predetermined logic rules to issue command output signals, a detent mechanism 16 providing a selectively variable resistance to movement of said shift lever from a first condition (complete) to a second condition (none), wherein logic rules being effective to determine, dependent on the operator selection of the first mode and the second mode of operation of the accessory, a driver intent to maintain said shift lever in said ratio-disengaged position (intent based upon using the seatbelt or not), and upon sensing such intent, causing said detent mechanism to assume said first condition. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Newbigging to employ the transmission/accessory controls in view of Kameyama in order to provide an additional safety measure (Col. 1).

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 12-13 are allowed.

Claims 9 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

Reason, Kinkade and Stine have been cited to show similar transmission controls.

FACSIMILE TRANSMISSION

Submission of your response by facsimile transmission is encouraged. Group 3600's facsimile number is (703) 305-3597. Recognizing the fact that reducing cycle time in the processing and examination of patent applications will effectively increase a patent's term, it is to your benefit to submit responses by facsimile transmission whenever permissible. Such submission will place the response directly in our examining group's hands and will eliminate Post Office processing and delivery time as well as the PTO's mail room processing and delivery time. For a complete list of correspondence not permitted by facsimile transmission, see MPEP 502.01. In general, most responses and/or amendments not requiring a fee, as well as those requiring a fee but charging such fee to a deposit account, can be submitted by facsimile transmission. Responses requiring a fee which applicant is paying by check should not be submitting by facsimile transmission separately from the check.

Art Unit: 3681

Responses submitted by facsimile transmission should include a Certificate of Transmission (MPEP 512). The following is an example of the format the certification might take:

I hereby certify that this correspondence is being facsimile transmitted to the Patent and Trademark Office (Fax No. (703) 305-3597) on _____ (Date)

Typed or printed name of person signing this certificate:

(Signature)

If your response is submitted by facsimile transmission, you are hereby reminded that the original should be retained as evidence of authenticity (37 CFR 1.4 and MPEP 502.02). Please do not separately mail the original or another copy unless required by the Patent and Trademark Office. Submission of the original response or a follow-up copy of the response after your response has been transmitted by facsimile will only cause further unnecessary delays in the processing of your application; duplicate responses where fees are charged to a deposit account may result in those fees being charged twice.

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Roger L Pang whose telephone number is 703-305-0445. The examiner can normally be reached on 5:30am to 4:00pm.
